LIFE- is an entity that can grow, move, reproduce, use energy, and adapt to their environment.

The essential ingredients for life are the elements Carbon, Hydrogen, Nitrogen, Oxygen, Phosphorus, and Sulfur.

These elements join and create molecules that together form a working system called a cell.

Cells join together to form tissue. The tissue then joins and creates an organ which then joins with other organs to create a larger organism that can move, grow, use energy and adapt to its environment.
